ABOUT

Genius Vitae is a global research project born from a partnership between the Università Cattolica Del Sacro Cuore of Milan and the Vatican Pontificia Accademia per la Vita.

The project aims to build an international network of organizations from all over the world. These organizations have been identified as catalysts in developing meaningful and sustainable experiences at the two marginalized borderlands of our social life: the borderland of human fragility in its many expressions (poverty, loneliness, exclusion, and illness) and the borderland of spirituality and openness to transcendence, also in its many expressions (prayer, contemplation, and art).

More specifically, Genius Vitae intends to disseminate and promote these social experiences and the knowledge on human life that they generate, and through this connect people together, opening the path in the search for common ground ("universal") and stimulating the birth of new forms of teaching and education ("university").
